SPECIAL EVENT MODULAR TRAILER

Modular Buildings Save You Time and Money.

When time is of the essence, the quick construction and removal time of modular buildings make them ideal for temporary special event applications.

Project Capsule: Tadano Cranes at the Con Expo Show - Las Vegas, NV

Tadano Cranes' exhibit at the Con Expo Show in Las Vegas had to showcase their product line effectively with very limited space. The design of Pac-Van's standard 24'x44' Sales Office suited their needs. The compact layout of the building allowed for three private conference spaces and a large display area. The open area included a custom serving bar and a continuous display cabinet along one wall. Interior walls were taped, textured and painted and ceilings were 2'x2' tegular Tiles. Flooring in the display area had custom 18" ceramic tile and the conference rooms had custom carpet.

A gable type roof with columns accentuated the separated french entry doors and enhanced the front of the building allowing separated entry and exit capability. The private conference rooms, in varying sizes, allowed for private meetings. A kitchen area complete with upper and base cabinets, offered storage space for thousands of brochures and model equipment. The compact design of the building met the customer's space requirements in the convention booth setting and was made accessible by a ramp on the side and a wide staircase in the front of the building.

Cost of convention space varies greatly. By using a standard Modular Building, Tadano was able to allay the high cost of building a custom building to fit their booth space needs.

The building was leased locally and could be set up in one day. The accompanying ramp and steps were also leased, relieving the exhibitor of the cost of purchase. The booth took a total of three days to install and two days to dismantle. In customizing the building to fit the customer's needs, both the interior and exterior was adorned with custom logos. Tadano had the advantage of great brand recognition, comfortable and affordable convention space and an aesthetically pleasing and accommodating atmosphere.
